

CICLO

CONFERÊNCIAS 18|19

ISPA - INSTITUTO UNIVERSITÁRIO

FACIAL MIMICRY

ITS ROLE, NEURAL CORRELATES, AND MODULATION

My work focuses on facial mimicry, and more specifically on the fast, spontaneous, subtle, and unconscious contraction of facial muscles reflecting other people's facial expressions. I will describe a series of experiments conducted to investigate the neural correlates of facial mimicry, its effects on the processing emotional faces, and its modulation by situational, neural and neurochemical factors.

SEBASTIAN KORB

FACULTY OF PSYCHOLOGY
UNIVERSITY OF VIENNA
AUSTRIA

17 SETEMBRO 2018

12H30 | AUDITÓRIO 1

HOST
GÜN SEMIN

ENTRADA LIVRE

ISPA
INSTITUTO UNIVERSITÁRIO

RUA JARDIM DO TABACO, 34
1149 - 041 LISBOA
T. 218 811 700 | F. 218 860 954
CII@ISPA.PT | WWW.ISPA.PT
f FACEBOOK/ISPA.IU